ANDOVER DEFEATS NORWICH UNIVERSITY 26 TO 2.

Fast all-round work enabled Phillips Andover to defeat Norwich university 26 to 2 on Saturday afternoon. The visitors were weak on the defense, and Andover repeatedly netted many yards through fumbled punts. Kilpatrick did some fine kicking, and the Andover ends were always on hand to gather in a fumble ball.

Quarterback kicks were used with success, and Andover gained 10 yards on a pretty forward pass from Merrill to Richmond, the only time the play was tried.

Merritt made a fair catch on Norwich's 20-yard line, and Capt. Daly of Andover kicked a pretty goal from placement.

Merritt made a run of 25 yards. Andover had little difficulty in rushing the ball over when within striking distance of the Norwich goal.

Baker, who formerly played halfback for Lawrenceville, made his first appearance for Andover, and gave a good account of himself, doing excellent work on both defense and offense.

Norwich could make little impression against the Andover line, but Barney, aided by good interference, once got around Andover's left end for 30 yards. He was injured soon after and had to retire from the game. The summary:

EXETER 11, BOWDOIN 5.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Oct. 8.—Exeter defeated Bowdoin Saturday in a game abounding with brilliant plays and fast work.

The winning eleven showed a superior knowledge of the rules, using the forward pass, quarterback kick and double pass successfully and repeatedly.

Bowdoin backs put up a better interference than the Exeter men and the home eleven frequently smashed through Exeter's lines for gains. The game was a very clean one, there being no penalties for roughness.

Both sides relied a great deal on putting and made many gains in this way, the ends invariably succeeding in securing the ball after the punt.

Woodhull, one of Exeter's backs, broke one of the smaller bones in his hand in the first half. The summary:

LADIES' NIGHT OBSERVED BY CONGREGATIONAL CLUB.

"Ladies' Night" was observed by the North Essex Congregational club Monday evening in the vestry of the Lawrence Street Congregational church. Preceding the supper and entertainment a social hour was enjoyed from 6.30 to 7.45 o'clock, when the business of the club was transacted. At 8 o'clock the guests were all seated and the program of the evening was introduced.

The first number was of a post-prandial nature. The subject "Two Centuries of Religious and Educational Life and Work in North Essex" by Bernard M. Allen; the speaker dwelt principally on the notable religious leaders, moral reformers and teachers of this locality. The discussion was an able summing up of the bright lights in the advancement of education, religion and civilization in general of the North Essex section. His speech was warmly received.

The next speaker was Miss Harriet C. Lord. Her address contained some interesting sketches of the women who have been of rare worth and intellectual power, who have been teachers, authors and workers in this vicinity.

Rev. George E. Lovejoy spoke interestingly on North Essex Congregationalism. A musical selection was then rendered by A. C. Moffatt, leader of the Lawrence Street Congregational church choir. Mr. Morrison is now engaged in "church music in Haverhill" and he was welcomed last night by his large number of friends present.

Rev. C. C. Earle of the Second Baptist church delivered the first of a series of addresses to be given by local clergymen. Mr. Earle spoke ably on the relationship existing between the different sects of the religion. He said the separate sects are continually drawing closer together.

Rev. William E. Wolcott followed Mr. Earle. His address contained some humorous anecdotes of life at Phillips Andover academy. The schools teachers were discussed by the speaker and many of their curious methods of teaching recalled. He made special reference to Elizabeth Stewart Phelps and his experience while under her tutelage.

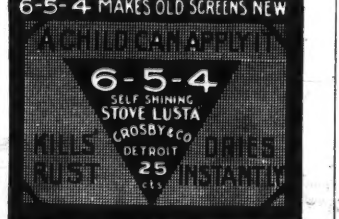

Rev. William E. Gibbs, the next speaker, told of the early teachings of Congregationalism. He took a decidedly optimistic view of the present standing of the sect and prophesied a glorious future for the people.

Ervin Truett, the last speaker of the evening, contributed an advanced view on Congregationalism. The exercises were concluded at 10 o'clock.

The last man hanged in England for poaching was sufficiently respected to be honored with a tombstone above the ordinary. This stone, which is in perfect preservation, is to be seen in the churchyard of North Baddeley, five miles from Romney. The inscription explains the situation: "In memory of Charles Smith, who suffered at Winchester on the 23d of March, 1822 for resisting, by firearms, his apprehension by the gamekeepers of Lord Viscount Palmerston, when found in High Copple, looking after what is called game. Aged 39 years."

"If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter, for he that is higher than the highest regardeth, and there be higher than they." Eccl., viii., 3v.

BIRD CRIMINALS.

A subject which has exercised me this summer has been as to what bird it is with a bill seemingly smaller than a Jay's which plunders other nests, breaking and sucking the eggs. In one small piece of hedge I found one blackbird's and two thrushes' nests all treated in the same way, the three showing among them the wreckage of eleven eggs all similarly pierced and emptied. The misdeed, I think, has been suspected of the offence and in this case I should suppose it to be the misdeed that it was not that a pair of butcher birds nested in the same hedge.

It is perhaps unjust to suspect the butcher bird on no better evidence than its mere proximity to the scene of the crime and it may be questioned if the shrike would dare to rifle the nest of either a blackbird or a thrush. A suggestion which I have not seen made and which I throw out only as a possibility is that the culprit is no burglar but neither more than less than one of the parent birds themselves.

ZOOS ARE EXPENSIVE.

"I am sorry to say that most of the American cities are losing interest in the maintenance of their zoos," said Clyde Ainsworth of Lincoln Park, Chicago.

"Although the principal cities still keep their zoos in good condition, they find that it is a costly matter and the question of either abolishing them or leaving them to the care of private individuals has been discussed."

"Very few people realize the large amount of money required to run an animal garden, and even if the beasts are donated the expense runs into the thousands. Lions and tigers are very particular in their diet, and an elephant will eat only the finest straw. The monkeys require constant medication and many of them die each summer despite the care exercised."

"It cost the city of Chicago a trifle more than $12,000 to run the Lincoln Park zoo and pay the salaries of the keepers last season, and it is estimated that animals valued at $15,000 died during the year."

From the Lock Haven Express.

An unusual tragedy occurred in Trout Run, a tributary of Pine Creek, a few days ago by which a big black bear lost his life having been drowned. A woodsman found the body of a large bear weighing several hundred pounds in the stream pinned against a log. From the position in which the body lay it was evident that the bear tried to cross the stream on the slippery log and fell into the current, which was strong as the result of hard rains. He became entangled in some underbrush. There was evidence of a hard struggle, the log showing places where the bear had scratched it trying to get a hold to pull himself out of the stream.

President Decides to Give Cuba Another Chance, Naming Magoon as Governor, Pending Arrangement of New Presidential Elections—Bell to Be Military Adviser—Roosevelt Answers Bryan—Radicalism Runs Massachusetts Democracy—An American Wins Balloon Race.

EXECUTIVE

President Opposes Annexation.

During the cabinet meeting President Roosevelt told his advisers that he was still in favor of restoring the government of Cuba to the Cubans just as soon as law and order had been established, federal elections held and the new officers of the republic installed. He declared emphatically that he did not want to annex Cuba, and in his opinion the American occupation would not last more than a few months. The president assumes full responsibility for all that has been done at Havana by Taft and Bacon. He also made it plain that he would not call a special session of congress, and only congress could authorize annexation.

Magoon to Govern Cuba.

After it had been generally understood at Washington that Governor

Winthrop of Porto Rico was to be transferred to Cuba, it was announced that Charles E. Magoon, retiring governor of the canal zone, would be the man to take Taft's place as provisional governor of the headless island republic. Magoon immediately started from Washington for Havana. The change to Magoon was attributed to the influence of Secretary Root, as Taft had suggested Winthrop.

President Back at Capital.

President Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Ethel Roosevelt and his two sons Archibald and Quentin and the executive staff, returned to Washington after spending three months at the summer capital, as the president's home at Oyster Bay has come to be known. The executive found his mansion newly repaired and partly refurnished at an outlay of $65,000.

Secretary Root's Return.

Secretary of State Root and his family, accompanied by Minister Barrett of Colombia, landed at the Washington navy yard on the Stylo, which brought the party from the steamship Columbia at the north of the Potomac, the Columbia having brought them from Colon. The cruise thus ended was begun from New York July 2, when the party sailed on the cruiser Charleston. The secretary believes that he succeeded in the task of dispelling the idea in South America that the United States has territorial or other ambitions in that continent. This suspicion was found to have grown up in Latin America in connection with the Monroe doctrine.

Magoon Against Canal Labor.

Charles E. Magoon, the retiring governor of the Panama canal zone, on his arrival at New York voiced his conclusion that Chinese labor is unsuitable for the canal work. He says that the principal reason is that our government would not countenance peonage, to which contractors would have to resort to get anything like effective work out of the Chinese laborers. He says that they will not do any more than they have to, and when they save up a little money they quit work without warning. In Magoon's opinion the West Indian negro furnishes the best solution of the canal labor problem.

Palma Took Initiative.

The official correspondence between the state department and Consul General Steinhardt at Havana immediately preceding American intervention in Cuba was made public. It is apparent from these dispatches that Palma urged American troops for the protection of Cuba from the insurgents, and it was at his express request that warships were first sent to Havana.

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

Head of the Mormons Arrested.

President Joseph H. Smith of the Mormon church was arrested at Salt Lake City and held for court on the charge of living unlawfully with five wives. The complaint was sworn to by a Mormon deputy sheriff, and the warrant was served by a Mormon sheriff, the object being to disarm the criticism recently directed against the authorities for their failure to take cognizance of the admission made by Smith before the senate committee. The accused waived preliminary hearing and was released on his own recognizance.

Mobile Mob Pacific Shot.

While a party of citizens were trying to disperse a mob of 500 men about the jail at Mobile, Ala., and thus to prevent the lynching of a negro held for assaulting a white girl, Officer Noyle was shot dead by some one in the crowd. Governor Jelks was called upon to use state troops, and the mayor asked the afternoon papers not to issue extras for fear of repeating the Atlanta riots.

Stensland Betrayed by Son.

It was disclosed before the Chicago grand jury that in return for a promise of immunity Theodore Stensland had betrayed the whereabouts of his father, the bank wrecker.

Moody Goes After Railroads.

Attorney General Moody has begun suits against thirty-five railroads to recover penalties for violations of the safety appliance law through failure to keep their equipment in proper condition. There are 181 violations in all, fifty-one of which are against the Delaware and Hudson. This would indicate that the lives of passengers and employees have been needlessly risked. Hereafter the law is to be enforced rigidly.

POLITICAL

Shaw and Moody to Retire.

Two seats at the president's cabinet table, those of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody, are to be vacated before Feb. 1, and it is known that George V. L. Meyer will resign as ambassador to Russia in order to enter the cabinet.

Labor Ticket in Porto Rico.

The labor movement in politics has now spread even to Porto Rico, where candidates for municipal and insular offices have been nominated by the labor party. The president of the local Federation of Labor is the candidate for resident commissioner at Washington.

Roosevelt Would Curb Fortunes.

In his address at the dedication of the new Pennsylvania state capitol building at Harrisburg President Roosevelt advocated the control of great corporate wealth, explaining that what he wanted to do was the antidote for socialism, and he evidently referred to Bryan's programme when he said that federal supervision of railroads would prevent government ownership. Before the ceremonies the president was shown through the building, about the cost of which a great scandal has been raised, and said he was greatly impressed with the beauty of the interior. Former Governor Stone, as president of the building commissioners, turned the structure over to Governor Pennypacker, handing him a key to the building made of solid gold. The president made no reference to local politics. Later in the day he made a nonpartisan address at the York county fair.

Rockefeller on Beef Exposures.

According to the interview in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, John D. Rockefeller discussed government regulation of private industries, criticising it on the ground that it tended to limit opportunity and "puts the brakes on national development." Speaking of the French people, he says they hate us, although they wish the patronage of our tourists. He referred to the attack made upon our packing business and said it was safe to assume from the proportion of their industry it could not have been built up on such false principles or methods as they were charged with.

Praise For Hearst and Bryan.

The Massachusetts Democratic convention at Boston Oct. 4 nominated District Attorney John D. Moran for governor without opposition, he having already been nominated by the Prohibition party and the Independence league. The platform praises Hearst and indorses Bryan for president. Effort was made to cut the reference to Hearst without success. George Fred Williams again comes into power as chairman of the state committee.

Irish Forces Harmonize.

The biennial convention of the United Irish League of America at Philadelphia was characterized by the spirit of harmony and confidence under the inspiration of T. P. O'Connor, envoy of the Irish parliamentary party. At the closing session $78,000 was raised for the Irish cause, and this was in addition to $50,000 already pledged in the report of the committee of ways and means. Under the influence of Michael J. Ryan, the new president, all factions gave their hearty allegiance to the policy advocated by John E. Redmond and his colleagues.

RELIGIOUS

A New Bible Confirmation.

In a book just issued by Professor Mills of Oxford, who is the leading authority on the oldest hymns of the Iranian faith, the old Persian inscriptions are compared with those sections of the Bible concerned with the proclamation of Cyrus for the rebuilding of the temple at Jerusalem. Thus he proves "the virtual authenticity of the Old Testament records and their harmony with the Persian inscriptions of Darius, who carried out the religious policy of his predecessor, Cyrus."

Record of the Y. M. C. A.

The new year book of the Young Men's Christian association shows a total membership of 405,789. This is an increase of more than 32,000 in two years. The 1904 report showed an increase of 118,000 since 1900, and the 1905 figures testified to as great a growth in the half decade then ending as had marked the forty-seven years gone before. In 1905 the organization had but 32,000 members. In the 456 gymnasiums, the many swimming pools, the bowling alleys and the athletic fields conducted by the association more than 153,000 men and boys take systematic exercise. In the various educational classes are 36,826 enrolled students.

"Bible Not the Word of God."

In an address before the Detroit Y. M. C. A. Bishop Williams of the Michigan Episcopal diocese denied flatly that the Bible is the word of God and said that this teaching had been the most prolific source of unbelief the church had to contend with. "No where," he said, "does the Bible declare itself the word of God. Yet we are told we must take it in its entirety." He said further that the student out of college is asked to manipulate Genesis until it fits the sciences and that if he is honest the student gives up the Bible rather than stultify his reason. At the same time the bishop insisted that the Bible needed no defense. All it needed was a square deal. It should not be used as a heathen does his fetish or amulet.

Methodist Heresy Trial Now.

Before the Central New York Methodist Episcopal conference at Penn Yan last week was begun the trial of Hinchey G. Mitchell, formerly professor of Hebrew literature at Boston university, on the charge of teaching false doctrines, assailing the integrity and authority of the Scriptures and destroying faith in the deity of Christ. The case was up before the board of bishops last year, and Professor Mitchell was compelled to resign.

SCIENTIFIC

Transplanting Blood Vessels.

Professor Garre of Breslau, addressing the congress of natural investigation of medicine at Stuttgart, Germany, gave the result of his experiments in transplanting blood vessels and organs from one body to another. He told of transplanting a portion of the thyroid glands from a mother to her nine-month-old child. He had transplanted blood vessels two and a half inches long from one live animal to another. He had also transplanted blood vessels from animals which had been dead an hour and a half to live animals. He had also succeeded in transplanting the kidney from one animal to another, causing it to perform its functions perfectly.

Sleep Disease Puzzle Solved.

Professor F. G. Novy of the University of Michigan is said to have identified the germ of the deadly African disease known as the sleeping fever, thus solving the problem which had baffled Koch, the great German bacteriologist. Professor Novy will try to find a curative antitoxin.

Continuous Smelting Process.

The Australian inventors have found a new process for the continuous treatment of iron ore, which is to be exploited throughout the world. It is a process for directly converting the ore into malleable iron or steel and is said to effect a saving of 25 per cent. After the ore is concentrated it is passed through a revolving cylinder and brought to a red heat, when it is brought into contact with the deoxidizing gas; thence it falls into a bath of molten iron and is converted into steel or malleable iron, the whole process being automatic.

Woman Holds Mountain Record.

Mrs. Bullock-Workman, the famous mountain climber and explorer, has recently eclipsed her own record by scaling a height of 23,150 feet in the Nankun range of the Himalayas. She was accompanied by her husband and a party of guides and carriers, with a caravan of live stock, to a point 14,400 feet up the range. From 21,200 feet the ascent was continued by cutting steps in the wall of ice, and from 22,800 feet Mrs. Bullock-Workman left her husband and climbed to the top with a guide and a porter.

Man His Own Motor Boat.

The French inventor who recently astonished Paris by the introduction of motor boats has now adopted the petrol motor so as to apply water propulsion direction to the human body. The apparatus is devised so as to keep the body afloat by means of air bags and a water tight box containing the engine and fuel is strapped to the back. The user sits on a sort of a saddle and two rods connect the engine with a propeller. The man steers himself by altering the position of his hands in the water.

Oceans Are at Same Level.

Otto H. Tittmann of the American coast and geodetic survey, addressing the international geodetic congress at Budapest, told how the progress of the survey along the ninety-eighth meridian was proving that the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and the gulf of Mexico are approximately at the same level. He told also of the effort to determine the extent of the displacement of the earth's crust near San Francisco at the time of the recent earthquake. This shift will be determined by re-measuring and triangulation.

MUEHLIG AND BUNTING PLACED IN NOMINATION.

The delegates from wards one and two of Lawrence and from Methuen met in the Odd Fellows hall in Methuen Monday to nominate Republican candidates to represent the Fifth Essex district in the lower branch of the General court.

James E. Simpson of ward 2 called the meeting to order at 8:10 o'clock and after stating the purpose of the convention, he called for the nomination of a temporary chairman, Edward A. Bower of Methuen was elected.

James E. Simpson was elected temporary secretary.

The chairman appointed Robert S. Maloney and Robert E. Henderson of this city and Robert Driver of Methuen as a committee on credentials and later they reported 25 delegates present, 6 from ward one; 8 from ward two and 12 from Methuen.

A motion was then made that the temporary organization be made permanent, but Mr. Bower declined to act as chairman and Robert Driver was elected in his place.

Robert S. Maloney nominated Emil J. Muehligh, speaking as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:

"It is my great pleasure to present the name of Emil J. Muehligh to this convention for a renomination to the office which he has filled with so much credit, during the past year, both to the Republican party and to the people. Those same sterling qualities that Emil J. Muehligh displayed as a councillor of the state, he has shown anew as a legislator of the state. He has been a thoroughly sincere and honest representative of the people, and has earned anew the confidence of his party and the people. It is fit that this representative district, one of the largest textile districts in the state, should be represented at the state house by a friend of the toiler. Mr. Muehligh has been such a friend.

"He has been faithful and true in all measures tending to uplift and dignify labor in this commonwealth. His voice has been raised and his vote cast on every possible occasion in behalf of the toiler. The baneful influences that control many of our legislators, leading them away from the correct path of duty, have never encompassed Emil J. Muehligh. The party and the people have been honored in having him at the state house.

"I move his nomination by acclamation. He will be elected and will give the district another year of conspicuously able and honest service."

Edward A. Bower of Methuen, who this year retires after two years of faithful service as representative from the Methuen end of the district then placed in nomination Selectman George Bunting of that town. He paid a tribute to Mr. Bunting for his fidelity to the interests of the town and for his ability to fill the position to which he aspires. This nomination was also made by acclamation.

Robert S. Maloney, E. A. Bower and Joseph Tennant were appointed a committee to bring the candidates before the convention and they soon appeared and accepted the nominations in brief speeches, pledging themselves to devote their best efforts to the interests of the district. Their remarks were greeted with applause.

The Lawrence members, George McLane, Jr., and James E. Simpson, of the old district committee were re-elected and, on motion of John D. Emerson, William A. Bower was elected the Methuen member.

The committee was authorized to fill any vacancy caused by disability or death, after which the convention adjourned, and the delegates repaired to the banquet hall where an excellent oyster supper was served.

After the banquet Robert Driver, who acted as chairman, called upon a number of the prominent Republicans for speeches, and short but pointed addresses were given by Joseph Donovan, Republican nominee for senator from this district; Moses Marshall, Republican nominee for registrar of deeds; ex-representative Edward A. Bower, Representative candidates George Huntington and Emil J. Muehligh, George A. Merrill, secretary of the Lawrence city committee; William M. Stuart, chairman of the committee; and Gustave E. Steigler of this city. Chairman Driver brought the exercises close by a personal exhortation for the Republicans to do their duty at the coming election.

RUGS

In these days of modern improvements and hard wood floors the carpet rug is in great favor. It is cheaper than the regular carpet and often times handsomer. Then again, it's nothing to put down; anyone can do it, and during house cleaning time the hardest task of all is entirely eliminated. Carpet Rugs are fashionable, and they've come to stay. Our exhibition embraces 200 or more patterns in Wiltons, Body Brussels, Tapestry Brussels and Smyrnas.

The Automobile Accident.

One of the most serious accidents that has yet happened in the list of auto mishaps, was that of last Monday when one of the instructors at Phillips was so seriously injured that his recovery is even yet a matter of grave doubt.

The story of the accident is very similar to the story of nearly all of the affairs in which the auto is involved; a rapid pace and a careless driver. The story of the automobile driver may contradict this conclusion, but against it appears to be the very clear testimony of the three men who were in the party of pedestrians, and they are three men in whom the public at large is likely to put absolute reliance.

But while the accident had many characteristics similar to other auto accidents, the treatment of the suffering victim by the one in charge of the machine seems to have been unlike that of any humane person we have ever heard of. It would seem as if the first thought of any man possessing a spark of decency under such a call as that which the prostrate form of Mr. Hinman presented, would have been to sacrifice every personal comfort, but not so with this modern rough rider. "We cannot have our auto soiled with this dirt and blood" is reported as the answer to a request of Mr. Hinman's associates that the auto should take Mr. Hinman to a physician. So while the auto occupants continued in their personal comfort, a team was looked up and the bruised remains of the auto victim were in due time carted to a physician.

Now all of this is very shocking, and cannot fail to arouse the strongest prejudice against this particular offender against the laws of the state and the higher laws of decent citizenship, but it should not lead the rest of us to equal excesses of either language or action. The laws of the state should be vindicated in the proper place and there alone, while there is little doubt of an even more stringent application of the law of public sentiment to the offense that has been committed against decency and the most ordinary kind of charity. There is a more important question than either of these that will not down, and which calls for consideration every time the rushing auto goes through our streets. It is the question of how best to safeguard life in the use of the modern travelling appliances.

It will do us no good to condemn, and protest that the automobile must be abolished, because that is no more possible than it would be to say that every man should drive his horse hitched to an open two-wheeled cart. We can no more legislate against their manufacture with speed capacity of a limited number of miles an hour, than we can legislate that no steam engine shall be built exceeding a given power. In fact, is there any possible control that can be effectively exercised over the machine itself? Have we not been pursuing the wrong method in our whole treatment thus far of regulation of this new problem?

We believe that we have, and every recurring accident strengthens our belief that not until our officials get after the individual, shall we secure real control over the actual offender, namely, the reckless driver. The reckless driver is the man to seek, and he alone. Fifty miles an hour on some roads and by some drivers, carries not a truth of the danger for the public, that ten miles an hour might for another place and by an irresponsible driver.

Under such a condition as now exists with relation to the accident that is fresh in our minds, the law should be such that the driver would at once stand suspended until all the facts could be learned by the proper authorities, and the machine itself should be put out of commission for the same time; and, if the facts ultimately justify it, never again should the driver be licensed to run an auto. It is the "reckless" man at the wheel that must be reached, and we believe no other method will stop the increasing accidents that are arousing the public not only in Andover, but all over the state.

Editorial Cinders.

Not all purchasers of second hand real estate find such precious perquisites in their acquisitions as did the new owner of the Blake property on Abbot street, who tears away a part of the roof to find nearly a hundred pounds of delicious honey. Can there have been any peculiar atmosphere of sweetness reaching this house from the neighboring Abbot grounds? Perish the thought, and pardon the suggestion!

The plans are being formed for another year of activity at the Guild. There are some very excellent results behind this organization, and there is every reason to anticipate even better work in the future. The best basis for such anticipation is the steady increase in interest manifested on every side in such work among boys and girls as the Guild is doing. It needs lots of pushing and much sacrifice by those who do the active work. There are always the very few, but their work is very much lessened and made much more enjoyable if there is a host behind pushing on and not pulling back. They have many suggestions as to how best to push. Write and ask where your strength and interest can be best placed.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

An Instructor in Phillips Academy Severely Injured on Reading Road - Machine Breaks Down on Kim Street.

George Hinman of the Phillips Academy Faculty was seriously injured last Monday evening by being struck by a speeding automobile owned by Mr. Presby, a Malden broker, with an office in Boston, on the main road to Reading about two miles from Andover. With two fellow instructors, P. S. Gilman and H. F. Houghton, Mr. Hinman was enjoying an afternoon walk. An automobile, racing up from behind with the reckless speed so commonly indulged in by automobile drivers in and near Andover, overtook the party and before Mr. Hinman was able to get out of the way struck him squarely in the back, carried him some distance and then threw him violently to one side. When reached he was unconscious and blood was streaming from an ugly wound on the top of his head. His companions hastened to help him and did what they could to stop the flow of blood.

Owing to the refusal of the occupants of the automobile to allow their machine to be used to carry their victim to Andover, most valuable time was lost and it was over an hour before Mr. Hinman was finally brought to Dr. Clark's sanatorium. A farm wagon was finally secured to render this service. Dr. Abbott was summoned, and everything possible was done to help the sufferer. The excessive loss of blood coupled with the shock of the accident has left Mr. Hinman in a most critical condition and his recovery was a matter of great uncertainty. At the present time however he is resting as comfortably as can be expected and although gaining slowly is not entirely out of danger.

In an interview with an agent of Mr. Presby's who was sent to Dr. Clark's on Tuesday noon to inquire for Mr. Hinman he claimed that the latter was entirely at fault for the accident. He said that at the time of the accident the automobile was going at the rate of about 16 miles an hour and that the accident happened just after a touring car had passed in the opposite direction which created a large cloud of dust. It blinded the chauffeur and made it impossible for him to see ahead more than a few feet. When the dust had cleared away sufficiently for him to see he was upon the three men in the roadway and turned to the left sharply to avoid hitting Mr. Hinman.

At this point the agent said that one of the men touched Mr. Hinman on the shoulder in what the chauffeur thought to be a manner of warning of the approach of the machine and he thought that he would get out of the way. Instead of this he walked directly in front of the machine and was struck.

The automobile showed every evidence of an accident, the lamp on the right hand side being broken off and the covering over the engine was dented in. Mr. Houghton and Mr. Gilman were later interviewed and they emphatically denied the statements made by Mr. Presby's agent.

An automobile accident occurred at the corner of Elm and Florence streets about two o'clock on Sunday morning but fortunately not one of the seven occupants was injured. The machine was owned by the proprietor of "Ferneroff" and it contained a party of local people who had been spending the evening at this well known hostelry. It had made good time on the return trip and at the time of the accident was proceeding at a fast rate of speed.

The roads were muddy and in turning from Elm to Florence street the wheels skidded and when they suddenly struck the concrete crossing they held, throwing the weight of the machine on the right hand rear wheel. This gave way and the body fell to the ground. It scraped along for several inches tearing up the ground.

Besides the broken wheel, the damage to the automobile consisted of a broken mudguard and step, although the engine was slightly disabled.

The machine was removed by its owner about nine o'clock on Sunday evening after a new wheel had been procured.

To Teach in Phillips.

A School Physician.

The following is printed at the request of Superintendent of schools Corwin F. Palmer:

Acts of 1906, Chapter 50A.

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE APPOINTMENT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIANS.

Section 1. The school committee of every city and town in the Commonwealth shall appoint one or more school physicians, shall assign one to each public school within its city or town, and shall provide them with all proper facilities for the performance of their duties as prescribed in this act: provided, however, that in cities wherein the board of health is already maintaining or shall hereafter maintain substantially such medical inspection as this act requires, the board of health shall appoint and assign the school physician.

Section 2. Every school physician shall make a prompt examination and diagnosis of all children referred to him as hereinafter provided, and such further examination of teachers, janitors and school buildings as in his opinion the protection of the health of the pupils may require.

Section 3. The school committee shall cause to be referred to a school physician for examination and diagnosis every child returning to school without a certificate from the board of health after absence on account of illness or from unknown cause; and every child in the schools under its jurisdiction who shows signs of being in ill health or of suffering from infectious or contagious disease, unless he is at once excluded from school by the teacher; except that in the case of schools in remote and isolated situations the school committee may make such other arrangements as may best carry out the purposes of this act.

Section 4. The school committee shall cause notice of the disease or defect, if any, from which any child is found to be suffering to be sent to his parent or guardian. Whenever a child shows symptoms of smallpox, scarlet fever, measles, chickenpox, tuberculosis, diphtheria or influenza, tonsillitis, whooping cough, mumps, scabies or trachoma, he shall be sent home immediately, or as soon as safe and proper conveyance can be found, and the board of health shall at once be notified.

Section 5. The school committee of every city and town shall cause every child in the public schools to be separately and carefully tested and examined at least once in every school year to ascertain whether he is suffering from defective sight or hearing or from any other disability or defect tending to prevent his receiving the full benefit of his school work, or requiring a modification of the school work in order to prevent injury to the child or to secure the best educational results. The tests of sight and hearing shall be made by teachers. The committee shall cause notice of any defect or disability requiring treatment to be sent to the parent or guardian of the child, and shall require a physical record of each child to be kept in such form as the state board of education shall prescribe.

Surprised by Friends.

A very pleasant surprise party was held in Pilgrim hall on Wednesday evening when William Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Hardy, was greeted by about 60 of his friends who had assembled for the purpose. The party was very carefully planned by Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan and that the plans did not miscarry was very evident by their very successful culmination.

The surprisers met in the hall at 7.45 o'clock and a few minutes later Mr. Hardy appeared accompanied by a friend who said that he had an errand in Odd Fellows' hall. Mr. Hardy's curiosity was aroused by seeing friends across the hall and he looked in. This gave the desired opportunity and before he could realize what had happened he was carried to the middle of the floor.

Dr. McTernan then presented him with a beautiful gold watch fob in behalf of all assembled and he made a response thanking all for their kindness in remembering him.

The evening then passed very pleasantly in playing games and dancing. At intermission refreshments were served. Music for dancing was furnished by James B. Leslie and William Black.

Andover Boy to Practice.

Dr. Timothy J. Cullinane, an Andover boy and son of Jeremiah Cullinane of Ridge street, has opened an office in the Draper building and will practice medicine in this town. His office is on the second floor of the building and has been nicely furnished.

Dr. Cullinane was born in Andover and attended the local public schools, graduating from Pynchard school with the class of 1897. He then attended Phillips Academy where he was prominent in athletics especially in football, playing on the varsity team. Graduating from that institution in 1900 he then spent a year at Villanova and in 1901 entered the Harvard Medical school. In June of this year he was graduated and received his certificate from the Massachusetts Board in July.

Dr. Cullinane has many friends in Andover who will wish him success in his practice.

Andover Boys' Club.

The result of Monday evening's election was as follows: President, William Maguire; vice president, John Haddon; secretary, Robert McCord; treasurer, Stephen Sullivan; house council, Frank Leslie, Alex. Black, James Stewart, William McCord. The group chosen seems a splendid one with which to entrust the management of the club during the coming year. There were thirty boys present.

Samantha Allen.

The second and last performance of "Samantha Allen at the Court of Fame" was given in the Town hall on last Friday night before a large and appreciative audience. The entertainment in many respects was much improved over that of the previous evening, the actors feeling more at home with their parts and the show as a whole went off with a great deal more precision and smoothness.

It is a difficult task to decide which of the participants most excelled, as all took their parts in an especially clever and delightful manner. Special mention should be made however of Barbara Freitchie, Nydia, Queen Isabella, Grace Darling, the Greek Dancers, Samantha, Xantippe, Topsy, Ike and the Goddess of Fame.

After the entertainment the hall was cleared and dancing was enjoyed until midnight, music being furnished by Thomas' orchestra.

In Memoriam

MRS. MOSES T. STEVENS.

Below the line of our limited horizon, the life of a good and beautiful woman has gone down into the west. Like those of a fair sunset we are almost content to allow its altogether lovely colors to fade away without remark or comment, and only to treasure their sweet harmony in that corner of our hearts which holds the most beautiful and sacred memories. But we cannot let her go without some expression of our love, and yet no words are simple enough in which to speak of her who was so modest and who courted no praise or public notice.

Mrs. Stevens lived in that part of Andover which is now North Andover all her life, and she was descended from one of the earliest settlers of the town. Her life lay little in cities, and from that long line of New England men and women she inherited her love for the country, and her strong sense of neighborliness and helpfulness. Her own family, the church to which she belonged and the town in which her days were spent were her foremost interests. Her faith was simple and direct and she sought to exemplify it by doing all that she could for others. With the strong support and encouragement of her husband she sought out suffering and relieved it; she advised with those who were in doubt or perplexity, and helped them to bear their burdens; and by her sweet and gentle counsel she healed many a wounded spirit. Her beautiful face, with its crown of silver, her serene expression lighted by the inner light of truth and purity, has been a comforting picture to many a downcast soul.

Those who knew her in her own home, however slightly, will remember the dignity and gentleness of her presence, and to her husband and her children she was a sweet spirit that will abide forever. Obligated for many years to use an aid to hearing, she bore that affliction, great to her sensitive nature and shutting her out from many pleasures, with cheerfulness and submission and without complaint. Her home was an evidence of her character. Its door was always open to rich or poor and its welcome was alike to all. She demanded nothing, yet received abundant homage.

She would be the last to wish many words to be written of her. She had the desire and the means to do good in that quiet way that shuns observation. But more hearts are really touched by her death than by that of many more widely known benefactors of their race.

Mercifully the summons came. With but a few days of waiting, and those without conscious suffering, she passed within that vale that hides the mystery of death. In the midst of all the interests she served so well she lies at rest. May the example of her life be a help to all of us who remain behind.

Obituary.

REV. SHERLOCK BRISTOL.

News has been received of the sudden death of Rev. Sherlock Bristol, the second pastor of the Free church. He was born in Cheshire, Connecticut, in 1815, and died in Montclair, California, the last week in September, of pneumonia, at the age of ninety-one.

For several months he was a student of Phillips Academy in the days of the exciting slavery discussions. His strong, outspoken anti-slavery opinions met with so little favor from the faculty of that time, that he left town and continued his studies at Oberlin, Ohio.

The founders of the Smith & Dove flax industry in Andover, were warm friends of his and he was in hearty sympathy with the movement which resulted in the organization of the Free church in 1846. He chose the ministry for his profession, and after a short pastorate in Fitchburg, was called to the Free church in October, 1848. He remained in Andover only one year and went West in search of his health, continuing his work of preaching as he found opportunity. He served several churches acceptably and in 1867 settled in California, which became his home for the remainder of his days.

He excelled as an evangelist, was clear and vigorous as a writer and a life long foe of intemperance. He retained his mental strength remarkably, and, only a few months before his death, wrote a religious treatise for publication. His best known work is his autobiography entitled "The Pioneer Preacher," a copy of which is in our town library.

A widow, three sons and two daughters survive him.

Andover Guild.

The annual meeting of the Andover Guild was held on Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, at the Guild House. Reports were read from all the branches of work, but as these will be given to the public later, it is only necessary to say here that the year seems to have been a successful one, and a special cause of satisfaction is the establishment of the boys' work on a permanent basis which gives promise of steady development. It is sad to lose so many excellent helpers at once as we must by the resignation of Miss M. Alice Abbot, Miss Jennie A. Hinchcliff, Miss Mary Bell and Miss Edith Tyler, who have all been so efficient in the girls' work for so many years.

The following board of directors was chosen, together with secretary and treasurer. Directors for 1906-7: Mrs. H. F. Wilson, Mrs. Bernard M. Allen, Miss Mary B. Mills, Miss Clara A. Putnam, Miss Agnes Park, Miss Anne P. Hincks, Burton S. Flagg, Alfred L. Ripley, J. Newton Cole, Fred H. Jones, Corwin F. Palmer, F. A. Wilson, Myron E. Gutterston, E. C. Conroy, C. C. Payson, Secretary, Miss Anne P. Hincks; treasurer, F. H. Jones.

After the annual meeting the new board of directors was called to order and Burton S. Flagg chosen president of the board. Miss Anna B. Abbott was appointed superintendent of the various clubs, both boys and girls, and a committee of directors to cooperate with her consisting of Miss A. P. Hincks, F. A. Wilson and F. H. Jones.

Mrs. F. A. Andrews is to continue in charge of the relief work in its many departments and the Stamp Savings Society.

Phillips Andover's New Song.

For years, there has been a feeling among Andover men that the songs were not what the school standards called for and with this thought in mind, Malcolm K. Fletcher, a graduate of P. S. '04, who has made a name for himself as author of Harvard's great song, "Soldier's Field," took in hand the task of bettering the school songs, and arranged the distinctive Andover song, "Old P. A."

This song was used at the Andover-Exeter baseball game last spring, for the first time, but, up to this time, the song has never been published.

As Andover is the first preparatory school in many respects, it is also the first preparatory school to have an original song, words and music, and it may be truthfully said, that there are few colleges which can boast of a better composition.

The cover of the song is in solid blue, with a P. A. athlete as the central figure and the song is dedicated to "The Sons of Old Andover."

The engraving and arrangement was made by the Tracey Music Company of Boston, and only the best of workmanship, and the finest of stock has been used in this edition.

The Andover agent will be Mr. Franklin S. Weiser, Draper S. Copies may be obtained at this address at fifty cents each, or may be secured by dropping a postal to the agent. Everybody interested in Andover in any way should have a copy of this song.

CHINESE STUDENTS IN JAPAN.

From the South China News.

Chinese students are still going to Japan in ever increasing numbers, at the rate of 500 or 600 a month. The total number has already reached over 13,000. Several schools which have been recently started in Tokio are especially for these students.

The strictest measures are now being adopted by the Chinese Minister at Tokio and the Japanese authorities to control these young men, the Minister having given instructions to all that they must record their home address and their ancestry unto the third generation as well as their Japanese address, so that he may at any time be able to deal with them individually if occasion arises; and the Japanese have them closely under police surveillance.

Ballardvale Club Averages.

The record of the Ballardvale team has in many respects been the most successful one during the past season of any in its history. While Manager Joseph Lynch found at the beginning of the year that he would have to build up an entire new team, he set courageously about his task and by his untiring efforts and perseverance finally got a team together that any town could be proud of. No team that ever represented Ballardvale played the fast winning ball that this team did in the memorable 14 inning game against the strong Y. M. Cath. A. team of Lawrence.

Its proud record of 15 victories out of 19 games played with the strongest teams in this vicinity certainly stamp them as champions. The following table shows the fine work of the pitchers:

	Won	Lost
Cronin	14	3
Saunders	1	0
Foster	0	1
Totals	15	4

The work of the star battery Cronin and Daley has been marvelous and without doubt has not been excelled by any amateur battery in the state.

Clarke and Saunders are tied for batting honors although Daley who has played in all the 19 games is only four points behind besides leading the fielding with the fine average of .983. Juhlmann leads in runs made with 15 to his credit. Daley and Clemons are tied each having nine stolen bases. The umpiring of James Clinton has been very fine and has given general satisfaction.

Following is the complete official batting and fielding averages of all members of the team who have played four or more games:

Letter to Harry A. Ramsdell.

Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir: Here's a tale with three or four tails to it.

Professor Irvine has an Academy, Mercersburg, Penn. He paints the floors in summer vacation. It used to take 90 gallons of paint. There were two paint-stores there, and he used to buy one year of one, next year of the other 90 gallons year after year.

Now he paints Devco; 60 gallons; and the difference is a saving of $150 a year. H. C. Fallon was one of those dealers, good man, but he wouldn't take up Devco, so he turned to the other, J. A. Boyd. But Fallon has found it necessary to get a good paint to compete with Devco. He got one of the eight honest paints. He has a big hardware store and is doing an excellent hardware business; but Boyd, of course, has the run on paint—he's a little hardware man.

We don't care how little or big a man is, if he wants good paint and is active and sound.

Yours truly

F. W. DEVCO &amp; CO.

American Wins Balloon Race.

Sixteen mammoth balloons or dirigible airships, averaging 2,000 cubic meters in capacity, started from the heart of Paris in the first competition of the International Aeronauts' cup. Seven nations were represented in the various entries. Two of the aeronauts were Americans—Santos-Dumont and Lieutenant Frank Lahm. Three were French, three German, three British, three Spanish, one Belgian and one Italian. In addition to the cup, which is to be competed for annually, a cash prize of $2,000 was offered to the winner, $200 to the second and $133 to the third man. More than a million people witnessed the start from the Tuilleries gardens, including many distinguished officials and diplomats, while massed military bands enlivened the proceedings. The start was preceded by the flight of several hundred balloons and loosing of 5,000 homing pigeons. Santos-Dumont had a novelty by attaching a vertical propeller to his car, with the object of lifting and lowering his balloon without discharging any ballast.

Of the balloons started, nine failed to cross the English channel and six landed safely in parts of England. Lieutenant Lahm was proclaimed the winner, as he landed the farthest point north, about seven miles south of Whitby. Lieutenant Lahm is an officer of the Sixth cavalry and has been an expert investigator of military balloons. Although he made the longest voyage and won the prize, the race was disappointing, owing to the light winds, and no long distance record was endangered.

Taft's Taffy Pleases Cubans.
Secretary Taft made a speech in presenting the prizes to students at the opening of the University of Havana. It was his first public appearance as American governor. He said that the Anglo-Saxon race had much to learn from the Latin race in courtesy, learning and ideals, and that when the former was young the latter was civilizing the world. He likened Cuba to a tropical plant, which should be pruned in order to gain strength and greater vitality, and assured them in the name of the president that he was there to help them to resume their progress as a republic, so that they might once more be able "to point with pride to the fact that the United States is not an exploiting nation, but only has such sympathy with progress as to be willing to spend its blood and treasure in spreading progressive government throughout the world." Cuba's misfortunes were only what might have been expected.

One movement has been started to urge the provisional government to submit three questions to the people of Cuba at the coming elections—namely: Shall Cuba remain a native government, shall it be annexed to the United States, or shall it have a government under the protection of the United States?

Clemenceau on Separation.
Two important speeches were delivered in the French chamber by Premier Sarrien and his chief minister, Clemenceau, setting forth the determination of the government to enforce the law for the separation of church and state. Clemenceau explained that the sole desire of the government was for absolute liberty of conscience and that this implied the separation of church and state. He charged that the church under the pretext of religion was attacking republican institutions, outside interference. The premier said that France did not desire religious persecution, but that the government would not submit to the imperial summons of the church.

Italian Ambassador Resigns.
It is announced at Rome that Baron Mayor des Planches, the Italian ambassador to the United States, has resigned his post on account of ill health. This makes the Austrian ambassador the dean of the diplomatic corps at Washington.

Cubans Gladly Give Up Arms.
The commission appointed by Taft to superintend the disarmament of the insurgents decided that each man was to have transportation and subsistence until he reached home and that those having horses should be allowed to retain them for the present, but to be returned to their owners if they had been stolen. To facilitate the operation a special train began making trips between the points of the rebel camps to the western terminus of the railroad in Pinar del Rio. The alacrity with which the rebels laid down their arms surprised the government. A number of marines had been sent to Cienfuegos to preserve order pending the arrival of the government commissioners.

It was decided that for the present at least no more than 5,502 troops would be sent. The president ordered Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff, to report as soon as possible to Secretary Taft at Havana. General Funston was placed in command of the first expedition and direct charge of the disarmament of the insurgents.

President Palma left the palace at Havana Oct. 2 and, declining the military escort offered by Governor Taft, went with his family by train to Matanzas. There was no public demonstration on his departure. Subsequently Governor Taft took up his quarters in the executive residence thus vacated and continued the administration of affairs under the existing Cuban officials and constitution without recourse to military decrees. The discovery of several cases of yellow fever at Havana caused considerable alarm. Rigid quarantine and sanitary measures were taken, the tenement districts being cleaned and fumigated.

Mexico Executes Americans.
The supreme court of Mexico has affirmed sentence of death on three Americans—Hulbert, Harle and Mitchell—for murders in the collection of life insurance.

COMMERCIAL

A Business of $107,000,000,000.

The annual report of the New York Clearing House for the year ended Sept. 30 shows transactions amounting to $107,721,586,115. The total of balances for the year was $3,832,021,023, a gain of over $20,000,000 as compared with last year. Alexander Gilbert, president of the Market and Fulton National bank, was elected president of the association, while Albert H. Wiggin, vice president of the Chase National bank, was made secretary, and Manager William J. Gilpin was re-elected.

Paying San Francisco Claims.
Six of the big commercial fire insurance companies now have paid $15,952,749 on account of the San Francisco disaster, or within 6 per cent of the total of claims against them.

Dead Bonds Come to Life.

The sale of the Chattanooga Southern railroad to the Louisville and Nashville, which was completed in the office of the late Russell Sage at New York, brought joy to the holders of some $3,000,000 of the stock and bonds of the former. These securities had been regarded as worthless for fourteen years, since the panic of 1893, when the road went into the hands of a receiver. Holders who paid the assessment of $2 will get their money back and interest for eleven years. Sage had loaned $400,000 on the property, and rather than lose he went to work and developed it.

INDUSTRIAL

New York Central's Electric Service.

The first heavy train ever run over the New York Central railroad by electricity, drawn by one of the new 100 ton electric locomotives, rolled into the Grand Central station last week after making a seven mile trip from Highbridge on the same schedule as the regular steam train. Vice President Wilgus and a party of officials were on board. The train consisted of eight Pullman cars. The locomotive is almost noiseless, due to the fact that the motors are attached directly to the shaft. The maximum speed can be attained in one-third the distance required by a steam locomotive.

Philippine Railway Contracts.
The Philippines Railway company, controlled by the Vanderbilts, is placing large contracts for material and equipment to be used in the construction of a network of steam railways in the Philippine Islands at a cost of $11,000,000. The lines are to be built in the islands of Egros, Panay, Negros and Cebu.

Silk Industry in Oklahoma.
George E. Gardner, who is acknowledged in Oklahoma to be the corn king because of his successful efforts in developing corn raising in that part of the country, has begun the cultivation of the white mulberry tree to develop the raw silk industry. Already he has a number of silk worms feeding on the mulberry leaves at work spinning cocoons and has submitted samples of the thread to Secretary Wilson.

LABOR

Steamship Strike Ties Up Trade.

The strike of licensed deck officers to enforce their demand for higher wages on the steamers operated by the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic and Maryland, Virginia and Delaware Railroad companies caused a complete tie-up in that section. The strike particularly injures the Merchants' association and the Fertilizer Manufacturers' company of Baltimore. More than 1,000 tons of fertilizer is waiting on board the detained steamers, and it is seed time with the farmers. Thousands of baskets of tomatoes were rotting along the Delaware and Maryland waterways. A quick adjustment was therefore anticipated.

Union Expels Printers.
The Columbia Typographical union of Washington has voted to expel seventy members who refused to pay longer the assessment levied for the strike benefit on account of the strike against job printers in the District of Columbia, which has been on since last January. The dismissed members are all employed in the government printing office, but Public Printer Stillings made it known that no man should be molested because he did not belong to the union. The union's action makes the government printing office an open shop in fact as well as in name. The feeling against the nonunion men who refused to pay the assessment was very bitter. Because of the suspension of A. J. Tanner, employed in the bindery, the Bookbinders' union has asked the president to investigate.

Eight Hour Day in Book Concern.
The managers of the Methodist Book Concern have announced their concession of the principle of the eight hour day for employees in all departments. The new order will go into effect Nov. 1. At the same time they announced that they will conduct their business on the principle of the open shop, choosing employees on their merit as workmen and pledging to all equal rights and privileges, "permitting no employee to be discharged except for reasons of incompetency or irregular habits." At the same time they promise to pay the highest wages consistent with their business and say that they will on Nov. 1 formally withdraw their membership in the United Typothetae of America. The managers say they have taken this course without duress and because they believe in the justice due all men and because they "desire to be responsive to the demand of that Christian spirit which should govern our administration of the great educational and benevolent trust committed to our hands by the church."

SOCIOLOGICAL

Atlanta Facing Its Shame.

Letters and dispatches from Atlanta, Ga., all indicate that the better class of citizens are thoroughly aroused to the enormity of the offense against law and humanity contained in the recent negro massacre. Sam Jones, leader of the citizens' committee, says the people are condemning in unmeasured terms the murdering of innocent negroes. At the chamber of commerce meeting resolutions condemning the mob's acts were unanimously adopted, and steps were taken to relieve the beleaguered Governor Elect Smith says that the assaults by the negroes were exaggerated, as were also the stories of the massacre.

Editor Howell of the Constitution declares that mob law is never justifiable. The grand jury made a presentment declaring that the manner in which the afternoon newspapers of Atlanta had presented the various criminal acts of negroes was largely responsible for the mob's outburst, mentioning particularly the Atlanta

News. A suppression of such methods is suggested. The fact remains that the Atlanta mobs did not kill one of the perpetrators of the alleged crimes, and most of those who were killed were colored men of good reputation.

The commercial aspect of the riots was driven home quickly, for the colored workmen stayed at home or left the city in large numbers. Factories were shut down and many commercial houses were seriously handicapped. Thus it brought a realization of the large part the negro is now playing in southern industries. It was noticeable, however, that the mobs were composed almost entirely of working class whites, notwithstanding that it is customary for white and black artisan laborers to work side by side. The cause of this is conscious or unconscious trade jealousy. Another result of the trouble was the complete shutting up of drinking places, the object being to prevent the sale of liquor to all negroes. New licenses will be issued only to white men, who will not sell to colored men.

MISCELLANEOUS

Loss From Gulf Cyclone.

Details of the great storm which swept over the Gulf states last week were slow to come in, owing to the complete collapse of telegraph and railroad communications at the points chiefly afflicted. More conservative estimates now place the loss of life at Mobile at about 1,000 and the property loss at about $1,000,000, while at Pensacola the property loss is figured at $5,000,000 and the loss of life at thirty-three. At New Orleans thirteen lives were lost, and throughout the south vast damage was done to crops, almost beyond calculation.

New Orleans Torn by Tornado.
A tornado which passed through five miles of the residence and factory part of New Orleans injured a score of people and did $500,000 damage. The path of the tornado was fifty feet wide.

Entombed in Mine.
An explosion in the West Fork mines at Bluefield, W. Va., caused the entombing of seventy-five miners. The rescue parties were retarded by fire.

Transport Sheridan Beached.
The United States transport Sheridan, after being hauled off the reefs of Honolulu, was immediately beached to prevent her complete loss. It is doubtful if she can be recovered.

Fatal Crash on Boston and Maine.
In a rear end collision of a passenger train on the Boston and Maine railroad, near Troy, five passengers were killed and over thirty injured.

Dean of Speculators Dies.
Edward B. Wesley, who was the founder of the New York Times and of the Union Trust company and known as the dean of American speculators, died at his Port Chester (N. Y.) home. He was in his ninety-second year.

San Francisco Bank Holdup.
Two armed men entered the Golden Gate bank of San Francisco at noon and stole $5,000 in gold after having beaten the manager and clerk so badly that the former died.

Al Adams a Suicide.
Albert J. Adams, who amassed a great fortune by conducting policy shops, shot himself in his apartments in New York on account of public abuse and social ostracism which his practices had brought upon him.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL

It Helps Women to Win and Hold Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love. There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study. At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular periods, headache or backache, secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, Vice-President Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

"For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and female weakness and worn out with pain and weariness. I once day noticed a statement by a woman suffering as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it. At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the trouble, and I felt like a new woman. I am sure it will make every suffering woman strong, well and happy, as it has me."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacements, inflammation or ulceration, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. JANE M. WHITTIER.

The death by heart disease of Mrs. Whittier on Thursday, Oct. 4, removes one who had many life-long friends in this town, where she had lived at intervals since early womanhood.

Mrs. Whittier was born in Worcester, Mass., seventy years ago, and became the wife of the late Charles S. Whittier of Methuen. Possessing many popular qualities she endeavored herself to all by kind and helpful ways. An efficient homemaker, she was especially fond of children though not herself a mother. For some years she made her home with her cousin, Mrs. Jacob Emerson. A few months since, while hurrying for a car in Boston, her heart was subjected to such a strain as to seriously affect her health. During her last illness Mrs. Whittier often expressed a desire to go, manifesting much patience notwithstanding great distress of body. The interment was in Walnut Grove cemetery.

At the funeral service the following lines, which were often upon her lips, were read by Rev. Mr. Oliphant: Lord, for tomorrow and its needs I do not pray; Keep me from stain of sin Just for today.

Let me both diligently work And duly pray; Let me be kind in word and deed Just for today.

Let me be slow to do my will Prompt to obey; Help me to sacrifice myself Just for today.

Let me no wrong or idle word Unthinking say; Set then thy seal upon my lips Just for today.

So for tomorrow and its needs I do not pray; But keep me, guide me, hold me Lord, Just for today.

ROSES FED ON MEAT.

"I have yet to see a rose equal to those grown in Rome," said the amateur horticulturist. "They bloom in the greatest abundance all through the winter and they are as large and rich and velvety as American Beauties, living out of doors, climbing like ivy or honeysuckle over the crumbling marble walls of ruined temples, gleaming in crimson and green masses upon ancient columns, giving to the grim and saddest of mediaeval palaces an air of gaiety and youth."

"One day on the Via Sistina, as I passed the garden that had once been the garden of Lucullus, I saw an old man tending the superb roots that grow there. He was pouring on their roots a dark, rich-looking fluid."

"Why are the Roman roses so beautiful and abundant?" I said to the old man.

"Because they eat meat," he answered.

"Eat meat? Nonsense," said I.

"Well, they drink meat-juice, extract, which is the same thing," said the old man. "The Roman gardeners have for centuries watered our roses thrice a week with a strong decoction of fresh beef—a rich grade of beef tea. They are meat eaters. That is why the roses of Rome are as hardy and prolific as weeds and at the same time as richly, delicately beautiful and as sweetly perfumed as flowers grown under glass."

ONLY ONE TARPON LEFT.

Of the two tarpon taken, one on July 27 last and the other on July 28, in nets in Sandy Hook bay, and brought thence to the New York Aquarium, one still survives in captivity, the other, which was the one last taken, having died on August 5. The dead fish was the longest and weighed sixty pounds. The surviving tarpon, a beautiful specimen about four feet and a half in length, is now feeding and is apparently in good condition.

It may, after the manner of its kind, be found lying quietly in the water, but it is active, as is shown when it turns up its silver sides in making for the food thrown into the water for it. And it may be seen swimming around, sometimes following, seemingly the eight foot sturgeon that is one of its companions in the great central pool, the big sturgeon seeming then to speed up a little, as if to evade the tarpon's pursuit.

DISMISSED WITH PRAYER.

A Denver man tells a story of mining days in Colorado when the greatest excitement prevailed by reason of the discovery of silver deposits in Gilpin county.

A Mexican who had repeatedly evinced a weakness for robbing the sluice boxes was caught for the third or fourth time. In view of his numerous offences in this respect, it was promptly decided that the greater should be strung up.

Among those prominent in the proceedings was a big hearted Denverite, afterward elected to a high Federal position. He said, that much as he regretted the necessity of suspending the Mexican, he was, like the rest of the "committee," in favor of it.

"This Denver man wanted to give the doomed individual a chance to pray, but as he declined to avail himself of the privilege, the master of ceremonies started in to give the Mexican what the miners called a 'good send off.' After recounting the man's crime as an excuse for the hanging, the petitioner said:

"This man is unfit to live, he cannot associate with honest people; he is an outcast, the very worst in Gilpin county—and so, O Lord, take him to Thyself."

The Mexican was then properly hanged.

SOME THINGS NATURE MAKES.

Nature is something of a manufacturer herself.

In the case of a certain cactus marvellous natural pottery is produced. Woodpeckers excavate nests in the trunk and branches, and to protect itself the plant exudes a sticky juice, which hardens, forming a woody lining to the holes made by the birds. Eventually the cactus dies and withers away, but the wooden bowls remain.

As a weaver Nature also produces fine work. Certain tree barks and leaves furnish excellent cloth, as, for instance, the famous tapa cloth used in the South Sea Islands.

Nature is a glassmaker, too, according to the Indian Review. By discharging her lightning into beds of quartz sand she forms exquisite little pipes of glass.

She makes valuable ropes of various kinds in the shape of tropical vines and creepers, and she is even a lace maker, as witness the lace tree of the West Indies.

ROYAL Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Healthful cream of tartar, derived solely from grapes, refined to absolute purity, is the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder renders the food remarkable both for its fine flavor and healthfulness.

No alum, no phosphate—which are the principal elements of the so-called cheap baking powders—and which are derived from bones, rock and sulphuric acid.
